

Post Castration Advice for Cats

Discharge Instructions for

Your pet has undergone a castration (Oorchidectomy) procedure today under general anaesthetic. Please read through this important information regarding the after care of your pet.

When you get home

Anaesthesia can affect cats differently. It is most likely that they will be a bit quieter than normal and possibly disorientated afterwards. This is usually short lived and can last for around 24 hours.

The best thing to do is provide your pet with a nice warm and quiet place to relax and sleep. Even though your pet might seem a little out of sorts, they should still be responsive. The nurse will check them over prior to discharge to assess if they are suitable to go home. If you are at all worried about your pet when you get them home please call the surgery immediately on 01743 360 614.

Home Management

Male Cats should be kept indoors for a minimum of 24 hours. They will need to have easy access to all their normal amenities such as litter boxes, food and water. If you have other pets in the household it is probably best to keep your cat in a separate room to give them a quiet place to recover. But please make sure they have access to the amenities as described above.

Feeding your pet post surgery

It is recommended that you feed your pet something bland like chicken and rice, or you can buy special gastrointestinal recovery food from us. They can have their own food, but sometimes the anaesthetic can cause upset tummies. We advise that you feed your pet small amounts of food little and often for the next 24 hours and then slowly switch them back onto their normal food again. Fresh clean drinking water should always be available.

Wound Interference

For Male Cats there are no skin sutures so they do not need a cone. However some cats can lick the area excessively and cause themselves harm, so just be mindful of this. Wound interference from your pet could mean that it will set back healing and recovery times and possibly lead to major complications and additional costs.

It is advised that you check your pets wound daily for any signs of infection or excess discharge or swelling around the wound.

Exercise

It is so important that exercise is restricted, to allow for healing. Male Cats must be kept indoors for a minimum of 24 hours and limiting movement around the house is advisable. We do not necessarily need to see male cats back at the practice, however we are happy to see them back if you are concerned.

How can I keep my pet comfortable

On the day of the surgery your pet will have received all the pain relief needed via injection. The vet will also prescribe a short course of pain relief for you to give at home. The pain relief prescribed is a non steroidal anti inflammatory and will help keep your pet comfortable post surgery. If you notice your pet has any vomiting or diarrhoea when on this medication then please stop giving it to your pet and call us for further advice. Please see the table below for medication details and instructions.
